February 2022

Campaign 300th issue
We turn 300 in February. Not 300 years old, but 300 issues, which sometimes feels like the same thing when you see the changes that have come about since this magazine launched more than a decade ago. This special commemorative issue looks back on the highlights (and lowlights) of those 300 issues, at what happened, how the industry has evolved and how Campaign has covered it. If you want to get nostalgic, wish us a happy birthday, or imagine what we (or our robot overlords) might be writing about in another 300 issues, this is the issue to do it.

The Data & Measurement Issue
This issue will look at all aspects of gathering & using data. It will cover legislation and privacy, the process of crunching the numbers & what data is being used for, what it has been used for in the past & how it can be used in the future. The issue will look at topics including programmatic ad-buying, serving the right media to the right people & digital creative optimisation.

Media & Creative Agency Guide 2022

Platforms and brands will also have the opportunity to highlight case-studies of work with each platform.

Ramadan 2022
Ramadan is a month unlike any other in the MENA region, when families and friends gather and celebrate together. For many brands, Ramadan is the busiest time of the year, and they were able to play an important role in helping people come together, through imaginative and innovative executions from special offers to virtual reality to online iftars and more. So how will this year’s Ramadan look for brands? What will return to normal and what new traditions will be carried on from last year? Campaign looks at the learnings from earlier years at how 2022 will be even bigger and better despite the challenges the world faces.

Dubai Lynx Issue

There would be behind the scenes reporting with exclusive content of unbiased coverage of what exactly happened.
April 2022

The Saudi Report 2022
The Saudi Arabia of today is almost unrecognisable compared with only a couple of years ago. And the kingdom is constantly evolving as its economy diversifies and its society liberalises. For brands, the constant state of change means Saudi Arabia is a land of opportunity. But it also means that neither new entrants to the market nor established players rushing to keep up with developments can afford to put a foot wrong.
Campaign’s Saudi Arabia Report offers a guide to the media, marketing and advertising scene in the kingdom. We examine the projects and initiatives that are driving development, and look at the clients and sectors that are spending money. We look at the latest research to paint a picture of today’s Saudi consumer. And we look at the industry scene there, from established multinational networks to independent start-up agencies, talent to technology.

June 2022

The New Marketing Issue
Campaign examines how sectors of the region’s economy will change their marketing following the Covid-19 pandemic. When coronavirus hit and lockdowns were imposed, marketers shifted to digital channels and virtual experiences. But as curfews are relaxed, no one plans to return to the old ways. Campaign speaks to marketing managers and industry experts across several verticals to ask how their sectors are adapting and how their media, marketing and advertising tactics and strategies have changed.

The New Media Issue
While talk of ‘the new normal’ has become something of a marcomms cliché in recent years, it is fair to say that the pandemic has finally bridged the gap between rhetoric and reality. ‘The new normal’ is actually becoming the new normal. Media, marketing and advertising have been transformed by lockdown, and when things return to ‘normal’ – yes, the new normal – they won’t suddenly un-transform. Media leaders in this issue will look at the effects of the current trends and how it will change the industry in the long term.

Marketing F2W Faces to Watch Issue
Campaign ME recognizes the best upcoming young talent aged 30 & Under client side in the region.

Games Marketing & Esports
A recent report from research company Technavio estimates that global ad spend on in-game advertising will rise by $3.54bn between 2022 and 2025, with average annual growth of more than 15 per cent. Across consoles, PCs and mobile, there is a lot of opportunity for marketers to get involved, and at Campaign we are speaking to industry experts to see what brands should do to make the most of this growing channel.
July 2022

Startups / Brands to Watch

The flip side of the attrition attached to economic downturn such as that brought about by the Covid-19 crisis is that as talented industry players leave larger agencies (through lay-offs, life re-evaluations or other reasons) they often come back heading up new brands. Campaign looks at the latest wave of start-ups and new brands that are challenging not only established players but whole market philosophies. If you want to find out or show people what the next big thing is, this is the issue for you.

The CX Issue - Customer Experience

Branding goes far beyond goods and services, especially when the marketplace is crowded. Marketers are now embracing a more holistic approach to their trade that encompasses multiple channels and, increasingly, experiences. The way a customer feels in-store, online and when using after-sales services can mean as much as the object or service they have paid for. Campaign examines how top-notch customer service can keep your consumers happy and loyal, and we find out what it means to provide an experience that keeps them coming back for more.

Performance & Behavioral Targeting

Programmatic buying and other forms of ad tech and martech hold huge amounts of promise. But what does it take to use it right? The boost in e-commerce that came out of the 2020 Covid-19 crisis has turned a magnifying glass on what it means to provide consumers with contextual and behaviourally appropriate marketing tailored to them, while the demise of tracking technologies including third-party cookies present unique challenges. Campaign looks at performance, contextual and behavioural marketing and advertising. We look at where the regional industry is and how it compares with global markets, and examines how to get better at it.
